How is my SEWER BILL calculated?

The sewer bill is based on an average water usage - also known as the 'winter quarter average' (WQA) - taken from the months of December, January and February. Each year, beginning on July 1, we generate new sewer fees based on the WQA (See next question also). If a WQA cannot be calculated for a customer due to the unavailability of direct metered wastewater flow data or metered water use data, then the sewer discharge is estimated using the average unit discharge associated with that user's class (see Pima County Code, Title 13, §13.24.030.C).

Why are December, January, and February the months that are used as the basis for the sewer billing?

We use December, January, and February because they are traditionally the lowest months of water usage during the year. If those months are not the lowest months of usage for the customer then we allow for an appeal to be filed.

Do I have to pay for sewer when I am NOT in residence in Tucson for longer than a month?

No. If you are gone for longer than a month, as our winter visitors are, contact us with the dates of your absence and we will bill for the Monthly Service Fee only. Use our online form or call us.

For example, if you are gone from April to October, your bill will be $12.63 per month while you are gone (based on the rate in effect July 1, 2013). When you are in residence again, the bill will be based on your established winter usage.
